Welcome to Department of Informatics’ women network seminar on 17th October at Hotel Scandic Ørnen!

This is an annual event for female scientists, staff and students at our department, aiming to strengthen our in-house female network and focus on career opportunities and inspiration for female students and scientists within computer science.

This year we have the great pleasure of announcing Doctor of Honor Anne Canteaut as our key note speaker. Her achievements can certainly serve as a great inspiration for all, and specially for female students and scientists within our field.
