Agenda:

1. Information sharing:

Home office. Information from UiB – see the UiB web pages

Access to campus will be restricted further. Home office is the main rule. Working from campus must be agreed upon with your leader. Those who must come to campus should walk or bike if possible.

Public transport during rush hour should be avoided.

Teaching is digital, as far as possible. Physical meetings should take place only if absolutely necessary and after approval from centre leader Bente, who informs the department head.

Morning meetings 0830 also in the coming week

We meet at zoom Tuesday to Friday 830 for information sharing, a nice way to start the day!

Revised staff meeting schedule.

There have been some changes of plans for our Monday staff meetings, find the revised schedule here: <http://vedlegg.uib.no/?id=6d263eeac554cdf876c86ce9975e6993>

Further changes may come.

Dissertations: New date! Appolinaire Tiam dissertation will be 14th December.

2. Presentation of IKO – Department of Clinical Dentistry, with visitors and presentations, followed by discussion.

Anne Nordrehaug Åstrøm presented the NORPART student exchange project “Establishment of Joint Research-Based Education in Dentistry in Norway and East Africa”. IKO, together with partners from five universities in East Africa, has started a new international project aimed at developing new educational activities with a focus on global oral health. A new course is established for master and PhD which will run for the first time autumn 2021, “Global oral health”, 6 ECT. IKO also received a full founded master scholarship from DIKU, student arrive Bergen in 2021. Read more about the project here:
